CASE A

This case involves a junior officer who is an aggressive homosexual. He not only had homosexual relations with two junior officers and made advances to two other junior officers, but he made homosexual advances towards one corporal and three privates in the following circumstances: towards a corporal while drinking off-base together; towards a private who was a passenger in the officer's car; during manoeuvres towards a private who was aroused from sleep in a sleeping bag; and again during manoeuvres towards a private while he was driving a truck in which the officer was a passenger.

CASE B

This case involves a senior non-commissioned officer who has had homosexual relations in his quarters with at least one private who was subject to his direct control and supervision, and who has made an unnatural advance in his car to a private who was formerly under his supervision. This senior NCO also frequently entertained other young servicemen for whom he was directly responsible in his quarters, and he continuously mixed with them off-duty elsewhere.
