Hon. Francis Fox
Solicitor General

Dear Mr. Fox:

Discrimination against homosexuals in and by the R.C.M.P. may not be a very important question to you but it is very important to us, for reasons I think you would understand.

For this reason, I am astonished that we cannot get from your office any response to our letter of October 5th on this subject.

We did receive a routine acknowledgement to our letter, but no response. I called your Executive Assistant, Claude Morin, on October 21st, 22nd, 25th 26th and 27th. Each time I left a message to return my call; none were returned. I was put through to Mr. Morin on October 28th; he told me he was busy organizing a trip to Vancouver and would call me back on November 1st.

Mr. Fox, I am still waiting.

I called Mr. Morin again on November 10th and left a message. I repeated this procedure on November 12th, 15th, 16th, 18th, 19th, 22nd, 24th and 25th and December 1st and 2nd.

Still none of my calls have been returned.

Mr. Fox, if this is the way your government treats its citizens, is it any wonder that your popularity is at a low ebb?

Thousands of homosexuals are forced to lead double lives and to live in constant fear of losing their jobs because of the policies of your government and particularly the RCMP.

We think that's pretty important.

Yours sincerely,

David Garmaise
